POSTMASTERS' WAGES.

WHAT IS BEING PAID IN OHIO, INDIANA AND KENTUCKY.

Mr. Hendricks, in College--Another Dark Horse--A Trip Commandant--Mr. Conkling Talks--Political Pointers. Washington Waifs--National.

WASHINGTON, June 24.--The annual statement of the postoffice department of the adjustment of salaries of the presidential postmasters has been completed. This is the first statement made since the two-cent postage has been in operation, for the four quarters of the fiscal year. The last report covered six months under the old three-cent law and six under the two-cent law, and consequently did not offer a fair basis of calculation with reference to the results of the change.

This year, however, is a fair test of the decrease under the two-cent law, and the falling off is not so radical or extended as was a year or two ago anticipated. There are 134 presidential offices relegated to the fourth class out of 3,353 postoffices. Of the latter number seventy-one are first-class offices, 282 second class, 1,796 third class. The aggregate salaries for these will be $5,072,000. Ohio the changes are given below. The offices where the salaries remain the same are not given. It will be seen at a glance where the falling off is:

Richard T. Merrick dead. Mr. Richard T. Merrick, who has been lying dangerously ill for some days past, is dead. He was fifty-seven years of age and came from a well known Maryland family.

When the war with Mexico broke out Mr. Merrick raised a company and did gallant service during the war. He was sent to the front where he began the practice of law, and was also sent to the state legislature. Shortly before the late war he went to Chicago and formed a partnership with a leading member of the bar of that city. He was a delegate from Illinois to the democratic National convention of 1860, and supported Stephen A. Douglas.

In 1864 he removed from Chicago to Washington. In the twenty years he practiced law in Washington he held an eminent place at the bar, and has been engaged on some of the most important cases before the supreme court of the United States. He was one of the principal counsel before the electoral commission, and in recent years was before the public in the prosecution of the Star-route cases.

He always maintained a controlling influence in the politics of Maryland, while his extended acquaintance with public men gave him prominence in national politics. Mr. Merrick is very ill. He has been suffering the most excruciating pain from abscesses in both ears, and was sent away from home as it was thought her presence as a nurse to endanger her life. One of her daughters is in Philadelphia under treatment for a similar trouble, and another has a severe nervous complaint, which, aggravated by her father's illness, has rendered her temporarily blind.

Mr. Hendricks at College.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 24.--Vice President Hendricks watched the Yale boys frolicking on the campus and applauding their songs. "I'll talk to you on any subject under the sun," said he to a reporter, "but I won't discuss politics. Oh, yes, the politicians are beginning to leave Washington; but I fear they will stay long. The warm weather will finish most of them. No, I can't say, I saw of the crowd of office-seekers that they were altogether as impetuous as you newspaper folk have described them. It is only natural for people to be anxious and enthusiastic over the first Democratic administration we've had in a quarter of a century, you might say--but stop this political chatter and tell me those over there. They remind me of the good old days I spent at South Haven. I suppose I saw of the crowd as I felt in 1841, when I quit school, and thought myself the biggest kid of a man. Well, well, these are their happiest days. I suppose Mr. Hendricks later had an informal talk at the house of ex-Governor Rogers."

Another Dark Horse.

NEW YORK, June 24.--The appointment by President Cleveland of County Clerk Matthew H. Vandever, of Somerset county, N. J., as collector of internal revenue for the third district of that state, marks the close of a bitter local Democratic fight for the place. The fight was waged for nearly four months, and the curious feature is that Vandever was not a contestant at all. Senator McPherson wanted Ed Ballantines appointed, and Miles Ross and Congressmen Green advocated the choice of Editor Gordon of New Brunswick. There were other lesser candidates, and much was said of the chances of the president was so sorely puzzled between the claims of the rival parties that he chose Vandever, who had not previously been in the field. Vandever is popular with leading Democrats. He succeeds Radical Lobbyist Barcalow, also of Somerset county.

The Canal Trip Commandant.

BALTIMORE, June 24.--The second class naval cadets at Annapolis, have been placed under arrest for firing with a party of Baltimore Sunday-school girls, who were on the 17th inst. It is charged that the cadets assembled on the parade ground and stood in columns as the young ladies passed and kissed their hands to them. They also cried them through glasses and paid them other gallant attentions, which excited the disapproval of several officers. The Sunday-school officials did not make any complaint, nor did the ladies feel themselves aggrieved.

Mr. Conkling.

WASHINGTON, June 24.--A friend of Roscoe Conkling reports him as saying: "I was not at any time nor in any way invited to take part in the last campaign for the Republican party in New York state, nor out of it, and you know a man can't very conscientiously dine with friends until he has first received an invitation. I see also I am credited with having acquiesced with President Cleveland and intimacies with his administration. You can say for me this is wholly untrue. I never saw Mr. Cleveland in my life."

General Grant.

MR. MCGREGOR, N. Y., June 24.--Gen. Grant remains in his room. He had the usual wakeful experience between midnight and sunrise. But the rest was as beneficial as the sleep, probably, for seven hours. The disease showed no marked change overnight, but compared with a week ago has slowly but steadily advanced. His face looks better, but that is from exposure to the air. His pulse is normal.

Steps Down and Out.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.--George W. Dent, brother-in-law of Gen. Grant, has received a letter from President Cleveland notifying him of his suspension from office as appraiser of the custom house in this city. Thomas Beck, recently appointed, becomes his successor.

W. R. Smith.

WASHINGTON, June 24.--W. R. Smith, superintendent of the botanical gardens, who has been in the hospital, is so much better that his friends entertain strong hopes for his ultimate recovery.

Secretary to Spain.

WASHINGTON, June 24.--The president has appointed Edward H. Strobel, New York, secretary of legation to Spain.

MITCHELL AND BURKE.

They Meet in Chicago and in Five Minutes Arrange a Match.

CHICAGO, June 24.--John Mitchell has come in from San Francisco. He looks well, and weighs 171 pounds, about ten or eleven pounds above his fighting weight. Mitchell went out to the city to see Jack Burke. The two men have long been anxious to get together, and it didn't take five minutes to arrange a match. It was agreed to spar six rounds at Battery D, on Monday evening next, for the gate receipts. This will be the fourth time the two men have faced each other in the ring. Burke's first fight was with Mitchell four years ago in England, where they fought with bare fists for a year and forty-seven minutes, and then the referee declared it a draw. The fight was for the championship of England, and both men were much honored that honor, as well as Alf Greenfield. However, the championship is still a matter of dispute.

Burke and Mitchell next faced each other in New York in a four-round contest that was also declared a draw, and shortly after they met again, but the sparring was so spirited the police interfered in the third round.

"I shall not go away to train," said Mitchell. "I'll stay here, but I must make a good showing Monday night. He is to be my best man for a long time. I go out to do the status act with McNish, Slavin and Johnson's minister opening July 31."

A FENISH KID.

Fire a Rifle Ball Which Kills and Wounds Three Children.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 24.--Carl Wall, fourteen years of age, the son of Dr. C. Wall, went to the door of Dr. Parson's drug store in Gainesville with a rifle, which he fired at a crowd of boys who were standing near the counter. The ball first struck Charles McClamrock in the side, glancing off one of his ribs. It then cut the hair from the head of a little son of Mr. Leonidas Steadman, and then struck Felfard, another son of Steadman, in the left eye and lodged in his head, where it still remains.

Felfard Steadman cannot recover. Young Wall was arrested and placed under heavy bonds. He gives no explanation of the shooting.

RIEL'S PAPERS.

Examination, Translation and Copying to be Used as Evidence.

OTTAWA, June 24.--The government is having all of Riel's papers and letters which were captured by the army in the Redoubt, be ready for deputy minister of justice, before they leave for Regina.

Many of them are in French, and include valuable evidence which may be used in the prosecution of the rebel leader. Among the most interesting documents are minutes of meetings of the council of the Redoubt. The copying has been placed in the hands of trusted officers of the government, so the strictest secrecy as to the character of the papers may be insured.

Plans of Oklahoma Boomers.

LAWRENCE, Kas., June 24.--A correspondent just returned from Caldwell, where he held a long interview with Capt. Couch, the leader of the Oklahoma boomers, says Couch believes the commission appointed by President Cleveland will make a favorable report early in July, and that land will be immediately taken by the boomers before it is officially opened. The boomers' camp is about three miles from Caldwell, and at present consists of a number of huts and tents. Couch says additions are continual coming in, and when he issues his call he expects to have it answered by thousands. If the commission report is unfavorable to the opening of Oklahoma for settlement, the boomers, as a last resort, will again invade the territory.

Fatal Animal Disease.

PITTSBURGH, June 24.--A disease supposed to be a species of glanders or farcy has been discovered among the horses, mules and other animals at Knoxville, a suburb of this city. Thus far twenty horses and mules have died from its effects. The disease is fatal in every case, and owners of animals in and about the city are becoming thoroughly alarmed. A critical examination of the disease will be made and prompt measures adopted to prevent the epidemic.

A Void Discovery.

BOSTON, Mass., June 24.--It has been discovered that the first under the water board purchased Fisher hill and other lands for $125,000, and contracted for $100,000 worth of machinery, had never been rendered of effect by the acceptance of the city council as required. The action of the water board in the purchase of the land for the water board and the uncompleted contracts void.

THE ENGLISH MINISTRY.

SALISBURY'S NEW CABINET FORMED AND ALL IS NOW SERENE.

Salisbury, Northcote, Hicks-Bach, Gifford, Cranbrook, Cross, Stanley, Smith, Churchill, Hamilton, Balfour, Stanhope, and Gibson--Notes.

LONDON, June 24.--The following is an authentic list of the new cabinet: Prime minister and secretary for foreign affairs, the Marquis of Salisbury. First lord of the treasury, Sir Stafford Northcote. Chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Michael E. Hicks-Bach.

Lord high chancellor, Sir Hardinge Gifford. Lord president of the council, Viscount Cranbrook.

Lord secretary of state, the Earl of Harborough. Secretary for the home department, Sir Richard Assheton Cross.

Secretary of the colonial department, Col. Frederick Stanhope. Secretary for war, the Right Hon. Wm. Henry Smith.

Secretary of state for India, Lord Randolph Churchill. First lord of the admiralty, Lord George Hamilton.

President of the local government board, Arthur James Balfour. President to the board of trade, the Duke of Richmond and Gordon.

Vice president of the council, the Hon. Edward Stanhope. Lord lieutenant of Ireland, the Earl of Carnarvon.

Lord chancellor of Ireland, the Right Hon. Edward Gifford. The minor offices have not yet been filled.

THE QUEEN'S WARD.

LONDON, June 24.--As a result of the queen's efforts the Marquis of Salisbury has resolved to accept Mr. Gladstone's promise to use his influence with the Liberals to prevent factious opposition. It is expected that Lord Salisbury will announce the formation of a cabinet, with Mr. Bourke, probably, as chief secretary for Ireland. Write will then be issued for the re-election of the cabinet members.

Sir Charles Dilke addressing a meeting of Liberals, said he was prepared to give the Conservatives reasonable assurances. He wished to study in Ireland, a plan to the devotion from parliament to Welsh, Scotch and Irish bodies much of the business had parliament was not likely to induce the change. He would visit Ireland as soon as possible for the purpose. He believed many Irish officials were in favor of decentralization, and many agreed that it was necessary to abolish Dublin castle. He thought Lord Salisbury's recent attitude favored of bluff and brag and was not likely to induce the Liberals to enter into a formal compact. The Daily Times says no specific pledges have been given, but that the promise has been offered that the giant's strength of the opposition shall not be used like that of a giant.

Gordon Alives.

ROME, June 24.--Information through Italian military channels at the Red sea has just reached the Italian government that Messadigia Bay, former governor of Upper Egypt, has written to the Italian commander there, and that he had received a reply from Russian agents for the surrender of the capital, which is one of the most important strongholds in the Hindu Kush mountains. The answer has sent a body of troops to Badakshan to inquire into the facts of the revolt and to restore obedience to his authority.

Politically Serene.

LONDON, June 24.--With the exception of the appointment of chief secretary for Ireland and the chancellor for the duty of Lancaster, all cabinet matters are settled. A perfect understanding has been reached between the leaders of the two great parties, and everything political, at least for the present, has been arranged. Mr. Salisbury has gone to Windsor to report the progress to her majesty and to receive instructions.

Adjusted.

LONDON, June 24.--In the house of lords Lord Granville formally announced the formation of the new cabinet, and immediately moved for an adjournment until Thursday. The motion was adopted unanimously. In the commons Mr. Gladstone made a similar announcement and moved for an adjournment until Wednesday, which was also carried.

COWBOYS AND INDIANS

UTE TROUBLE REPORTS VERIFIED
AND MORE OF IT AHEAD.

Massacre for Massacre the Only Way to Control the Red Devils in the White River Country—Serious Military Complications—Red-skin Notes.

DUNSMO, Col., June 24.—A messenger from Dolores valley, who has arrived, says the Indians had killed a neighbor named Gentner, seriously wounded his wife and burned his barns, hay stacks, etc. The messenger confirmed the report that cowboys had killed six of a family of Indians. One young buck who belonged to the same family, was wounded but escaped and came to the Ignacio agency, told his story and immediately 250 warriors came to the agency and demanded revenge. Agent Skoltenstein pacified them by agreeing to go with twenty-five of their number to Fort Lewis there get an escort of soldiers and then proceed to the scene of the trouble and investigate the whole matter and bring back the bodies of their dead comrades.

Accordingly the agent and the Indians passed through here on route for Ft. Lewis. Another messenger has arrived, bringing the report that a party of Indians met Joe Dougherty, a brother of Capt. Dougherty, of the Twenty-second cavalry, now stationed at Ft. Lewis, while on his way to his home near Mitchell Springs, and killed him, and carried his wife into captivity. Capt. Perrie, who was in camp in the Montezuma valley with three companions, sent Capt. Dougherty with his command to the scene of the murder.

The commander at Ft. Lewis hearing of the action of Capt. Perrie, immediately sent a company of cavalry to intercept Capt. Dougherty, fearing he might lose discretion and seek revenge for the death of his brother and captivity of his wife, who is a daughter of Mitchell, of Mitchell Springs, with whom Dougherty's children are staying during the absence of their parents. There are many conflicting stories as to who commenced the trouble. The cowboys claim that it was the Indians, and on the other hand the Indians and their agents accuse cowboys of carrying out their threat to kill all the Indians they find off the reservation. Troops are arriving and the Indians will probably scatter and return to their reservation.

members of the Odd Fellows, died Monday,
aged 74 years.

It is discovered that the act under which the Boston Water board purchased Fish-r hill and other lands for $125,000, and contracted for $100,000 worth of machinery, had never been rendered of effect by acceptance by council, and is therefore void.

August Modus, a farm hand, working for Ernst Schroeder, near Bridgton, St. Louis county, Mo., was stabbed in the neck and killed, presumably by Jacob Winkelman, whom he had quarreled. Winkelman was arrested with a bloody knife in his possession.

Abraham Timmons, aged 22, attempted suicide, probably successfully, near Canton, Md., by shooting himself. Timmons heard that two of his brothers had been drowned at some point in the West Indies. He became melancholy and was in a sort of dazed condition.

At Clinton, Ia., the trial of J. S. Berg, alias J. C. Brock, indicted for bigamy, has ended in conviction. The prisoner claimed that the husband of the woman from Wisconsin, who was the complainant, was his twin brother, and said it was a case of mistaken identity.

At Stamford, Conn., the body of an unknown man was found by some boys in a well, head downward. The man's arms and legs were tied with a rope, and his head wrapped in a piece of carpet. The premises where the body was found have been unoccupied for some time.

Improved Crop Prospects.

TOPERA, Kan., June 24.—An inspection received here from twenty-seven counties where the wheat harvest is in progress shows
the yield is much better than was expected.
Reports received from ninety-seven correspondents show the yield will be 15 per cent.
better than the estimate of the secretary of agriculture for June.

The Ames Case.

BOSTON, June 24.—The evidence in the Ames pension case has been closed. Counsel will begin their arguments immediately.

TEST YOUR BAKING POWDER TO-DAY!

Brands advertised as absolutely pure
CONTAIN AMMONIA.

THE TEST:
Place a can top down on a hot stove until heated, then remove the cover and smell. A chemist will not be required to detect the presence of ammonia.

DOES NOT CONTAIN AMMONIA.
ITS NEUTRALITY HAS NEVER BEEN QUESTIONED.
In a million homes for a quarter of a century it has stood the consumers' reliable test.

THE TEST OF THE OVEN.
